About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

THE PARKING LANES are noticeable again. Painters are busy brushing a glistening white paint on the pavement, something that has been needed.

OUT DORRIS HEIGHTS WAY the motorists continue to use the concrete slab instead of the stock car race track for the speedway, I'm informed.

The population is so congested out that way that safe and careful speeds are required because of the hazard to children — and adults, too.

THAT TEXTUAL TEXAN, Joe Norman, who ministers to the congregation of the First Baptist church, and others, handed me an article the other day.

Presumably he had read in this presumption that Timmo was an ulcer man because the item deals with ulcers. It's what a Baptist preacher had to say after a business man complained of his ulcer.

Here it is:

"Suppose, Mr. Business Man, you were overseer of 3,000 workers; suppose that only 50 per cent ever showed up for work at any one time, and of the remaining 50 per cent only about half of them with any degree of regularity."

"And suppose that if only one out of every five of your workers showed up after lunch (evening service) and everyone of them had a sight headache or company to visit them they 'took off' that day."

Says Taxpayers "Fed Up"

"Suppose, Mr. Business Man, you were overseer of 3,000 workers; suppose that only 50 per cent ever showed up for work at any one time, and of the remaining 50 per cent only about half of them with any degree of regularity."

"And suppose that if only one out of every five of your workers showed up after lunch (evening service) and everyone of them had a sight headache or company to visit them they 'took off' that day."

"George E. Mahin, executive director of the taxpayers federation, kept asking the crowd if they approved the various tax measures and the audience kept shouting back 'no'."

Mahin climaxed the questioning with: "Are you satisfied with the Stratton-Daley raw deal?"

"No," chanted the 300.

"Session after session the legislative corridors are filled with firemen, policemen, teachers, public aid recipients and others demanding more and more of your tax money," Mahin said. "The taxpayer has become the completely forgotten man. The time has come for a dramatic demonstration that the taxpayers are fed up."

Other speakers included Charles Hanna, Chicago, chairman of the federation's Hoover Commission division, who said 13 billion dollars could be saved by the federal government with adoption of the Hoover Commission provisions; Carl J. Larsen, Waterman; Walter Woodcock, Alton; and Roy Clapper, Lincoln, members of delegations at the meeting.

Rep. Franklin U. Stransky (R-Savanna), who is sponsoring a bill to create a commission to study the impact of atomic energy developments on the economic life of the state today reached the Senate floor with a recommendation for its passage.

"And suppose you were in competition with a notorious rascal (the devil) who had no scruples and was far more clever than you were and used such things as fishing rods, soft pillows, TV programs, shows, ball games and a thousand and one other devices to hurt your business."

"Suppose your firm was heavily obligated to meet certain financial responsibilities and you had to depend upon your people to 'give as they felt led to carry out the biggest business in the world.'

"You wonder why we do not throw in the towel or run to the bridge and end it all? That's what many of you have done. We might have if it were not for the number who love the Lord more than anything else in the world and who put God first in their lives and consider no sacrifice too great for their Lord. These are our pride and joy, the salt of the earth."

"So you think you have ulcers, Mr. Business Man! You ought to be in our shoes for a while."

Committee OKs Jones Bill for A-Commission

And suppose you were in competition with a notorious rascal (the devil) who had no scruples and was far more clever than you were and used such things as fishing rods, soft pillows, TV programs, shows, ball games and a thousand and one other devices to hurt your business."

Mahin then sent the protesters straggling toward the Capitol with instructions to see their senator and three representatives from their district.

Delegations came from towns including Woodstock, Robinson, Big Island, Springfield, Rockford, Alton, Mount Carmel, East St. Louis, Lawrenceville, and Vandalia.

MEET FOR WAGE TALKS—Walter Reuther, left, president of the CIO-UAW, and John Bugas, right, head of the Ford Motor Co. bargaining committee, arrived at negotiation scene in Detroit. Reuther did, however, agree to extend the contract on a day-to-day basis, pending action on current proposals by both sides. (NEA Telephoto)

Three Persons Killed, 10 Injured in Collapse of Building at Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Rescue workers freed a painfully injured man today from the rubble of a collapsed building where three persons had been killed and nine others injured.

The workers began searching for more bodies after pulling Lloyd Cornet from a spot where he had been trapped for more than six hours.

The three-story limestone building collapsed with a roar late Wednesday after the rush of traffic had subsided.

It crumbled into a bar and grill and a music store and spewed chunks of debris across the street, breaking overhead power lines.

The building was located in downtown Dallas on Elm Street, one of the city's three main thoroughfares.

Three persons in the bar and grill were killed. Seven others were brought out alive but two were injured critically and doctors said one was not expected to live.

Only the owner and a customer were in the music store. Neither was seriously hurt.

But more than 200 firemen and volunteer rescue workers dug for six hours to free Cornet.

He was pinned by his left leg next to a juke box, which he said saved his life, in the bar and grill. Dr. Bernard Weiner, of the Parkland Hospital staff, risked his life to administer sedatives to the trapped man.

Alvis Bailey Simmons, 40; William E. Kirby, 42, and Luther Gonzales, 32, were dead on arrival at the hospital.

One hundred and fifty persons were next door in the Fox burlesque theater when the building came down.

They felt the impact of the collapse but did not panic. Chester Tate, 53, ticket taker at the Fox, saw the building come down. He said it fell without warning, and "with the noise of a tornado." He went into the theater and cleared the patrons out.

Other bills approved by Senate committees would:

Create commissions to study water use and drought conditions, the Illinois mental health program, and the methods of improving the Illinois economy, particularly in southern Illinois.

The Senate Appropriations Committee approved the bill Wednesday. It would grant $10,000 to a 12-man commission to make the two-year study.

Sen. Glen O. Jones (R-Raleigh), the sponsor, told the committee one of the major problems would be the effect of the atomic energy uses on the state's coal industry. The committee voted to eliminate any investigation of atomic energy military uses.

Other bills approved by Senate committees would:

Appropriate $50,000 to help rebuild the tipple of a coal mine at Livingston, destroyed by fire. If the tipple is not replaced the miners will stay out of work. Sen. James O. Monroe (D-Collinsville) the bill's sponsor, said the mine is a cooperative operated by the miners and "it's a matter of keeping 150 families on relief and spending the money anyway, or helping them get on their feet."

He said the cost of the fire repairs is about $100,000.

Appropriate $30,000 to establish a police training institute at the University of Illinois.

Create a commission to study proposed bonus payments to Korean War veterans.

The body lies in state at the Gibson funeral home.

School Fund Bill Approved By House Group

Money Will Be Used For Equalization Aid Payments

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—A $201,614,000 common school fund appropriation, including some $4,000,000 for public school lunch programs, went to the House floor today with a recommendation for May.

Total polio cases since Jan. 1 stand at 2,290 compared with 2,686 last year. For the "disease year" starting April 1, this year's toll has been 1,226 compared with 1,133 last year.

The service said that the 1,226 polio cases recorded since April 1 included 80 persons who had received Salk vaccine, 41 "family associates" of vaccinated children, and 10 persons who "had some degree of prior contact with a vaccinated child."

Release 200,000 Shots

The figures were announced as the lagging polio vaccination program moved toward full resumption with the government's release of 200,000 Salk shots for immediate use. These shots were made by Pitman-Moore and Wyeth laboratories. They were approved by the government once before but later held for rechecking.

The Public Health Service said the flow of vaccine will pick up rapidly from now on. It expects enough shots to be cleared for release in the next 30 days to take

The bill is based on a new school financing formula that will raise this equalization level from $172 to $200 for 1955-57. The formula raises the qualifying tax rates for school districts as well as the state's appropriation.

Previously, the school lunch money was appropriated in a separate fund. But including it in the aid bill will permit public schools which do not want lunch programs to use the money for other purposes.

However, the bill allows private schools $90,000 for lunch programs. Claire T. Driscoll, of the Catholic Welfare Committee of Illinois, said this might be found unconstitutional and might create tensions between public and private groups. He said Catholic schools will be forced to ignore the lunch aid under these circumstances.

In other committee action:

The House Executive Committee voted against a bill to force Sunday closing of businesses.

The House Revenue Committee recommended against bills to impose a 2 per cent gross receipts tax on contractors, and persons who produce goods on special order, such as tailors, repair and service men.

The House Public Aid Committee approved bills to ban sparklers and to require ambulance drivers and attendants to hold first aid certificates.

The House Liquor Regulation Committee recommended a bill to prohibit sale of beer below cost as "unfair trade."

The House License Committee recommended passage of a bill regulating the manufacture of dentures and creating the Illinois State Board of Public Denturists to administer the license program at a fixed fee of $20.

The House Appropriations Committee approved bills to provide $300,000 for care of premature babies, and to pay Earl Howard, Chicago, $5,000 for 17 years wrongfully imprisoned.

The same committee approved the $2,186,350 appropriation for the Department of Aeronautics, which Gov. William G. Stratton intends to abolish.

State police ordered all detectives who worked on the Gaca case to Kalamazoo to investigate similarities of the two cases. Detroit police sent two detectives who worked on the Gaca case to aid the state police.

Local police said they had sent out an all-points bulletin on a 1949 or 1950 model, two-tone blue car which was reported seen frequently in the area where the body was found since Jeanie was first reported missing nearly two weeks ago.

Police said the partial autopsy showed the girl had been killed the day she was reported missing and her body apparently had been dumped immediately after death.

Authorities said a preliminary examination showed the second-grader, crippled by an attack of rheumatic fever four years ago, had been beaten on the head but the partial autopsy showed no skull fracture. Most of her teeth had been knocked out.

Jeanie disappeared while walking home from school May 23. Her body was found by five children playing hide-and-seek.

Officers Installed By Harrisburg Commandery No. 89

Officers for the coming year were elected and installed at a stated meeting of the Harrisburg Commandery No. 89, Knights Templar, last night. Hal B. Mountain, Benard, was named eminent commandery.

Others named were Robert W. Kennedy, Jr., generalissimo; Robert W. Kennedy, III, captain general; and Charles C. Cole, senior warden, all of West Frankfort; Ed Kirkpatrick, junior warden; Thomas D. Gregg, prelate; and Ed Heister, treasurer; all of Harrisburg; Jesse H. Heston, recorder, Eldorado; Alvin nastain, reeve, Eldorado; Marion Ozell, color bearer, Harrisburg; Thomas E. Cannan Jr., standard bearer, Eldorado; and Earl Robb, warden, Harrisburg.

Negotiations last week worked out a plan whereby the signed contracts would be placed in the First State bank of Eldorado and when enough contracts were secured, the Houston company immediately would place $5,000 in this bank as a sign of good faith that it will come into the area.

After depositing the money, if the plant to use the gas is not begun in 30 days or finished in 120 days, the money would be forfeited to the operators.

The plant, which would make gasoline, propane and butane from the gas, would use from three million to 10 million cubic feet of gas a day, it was stated. The cost of the transmission lines and the compressor plant would be in the neighborhood of one million dollars.</

The Lure of Freedom

Editorial — BY BRUCE BIASSET
 Free peoples everywhere can rejoice with Austria that at long last it has a peace treaty which will restore it to the fraternity of free nations.

Austria has been absent from this company too long. On March 11, 1938, Hitler's Nazi legions marched into Austrian territory, reducing the little country to a mere eastern province of Germany. Not once in the 17 years that followed was the nation free of foreign soldiers.

When the Allies crushed Hitler, their armies moved in and replaced Nazi control. There they have remained, in their respective zones, as West and East dickered fruitlessly through the years over peace terms.

Only a sudden change of heart by Russia, evidently dictated by new strategy for coping with increased Western strength in Europe, finally made possible a successful settlement.

Under the treaty terms, all Russian and Allied occupation troops are slated to leave Austrian soil before 1955 is out.

Russia also agrees to restore to Austria oil and shipping properties they had taken over as war reparations. The Kremlin first made this striking concession in preliminary agreement signed with Austria in Moscow weeks ago. It balked at including it in the treaty, until the West made clear it would not sign otherwise.

That the Reds finally yielded on this point was the measure of their eagerness to conclude this treaty. Naturally enough, they did not give so much without believing they had made important offsetting gains.

As a price they demanded and got assurances of Austria's neutrality. The treaty cannot speak on this matter, but it is expected a separate pact will be prepared for this purpose.

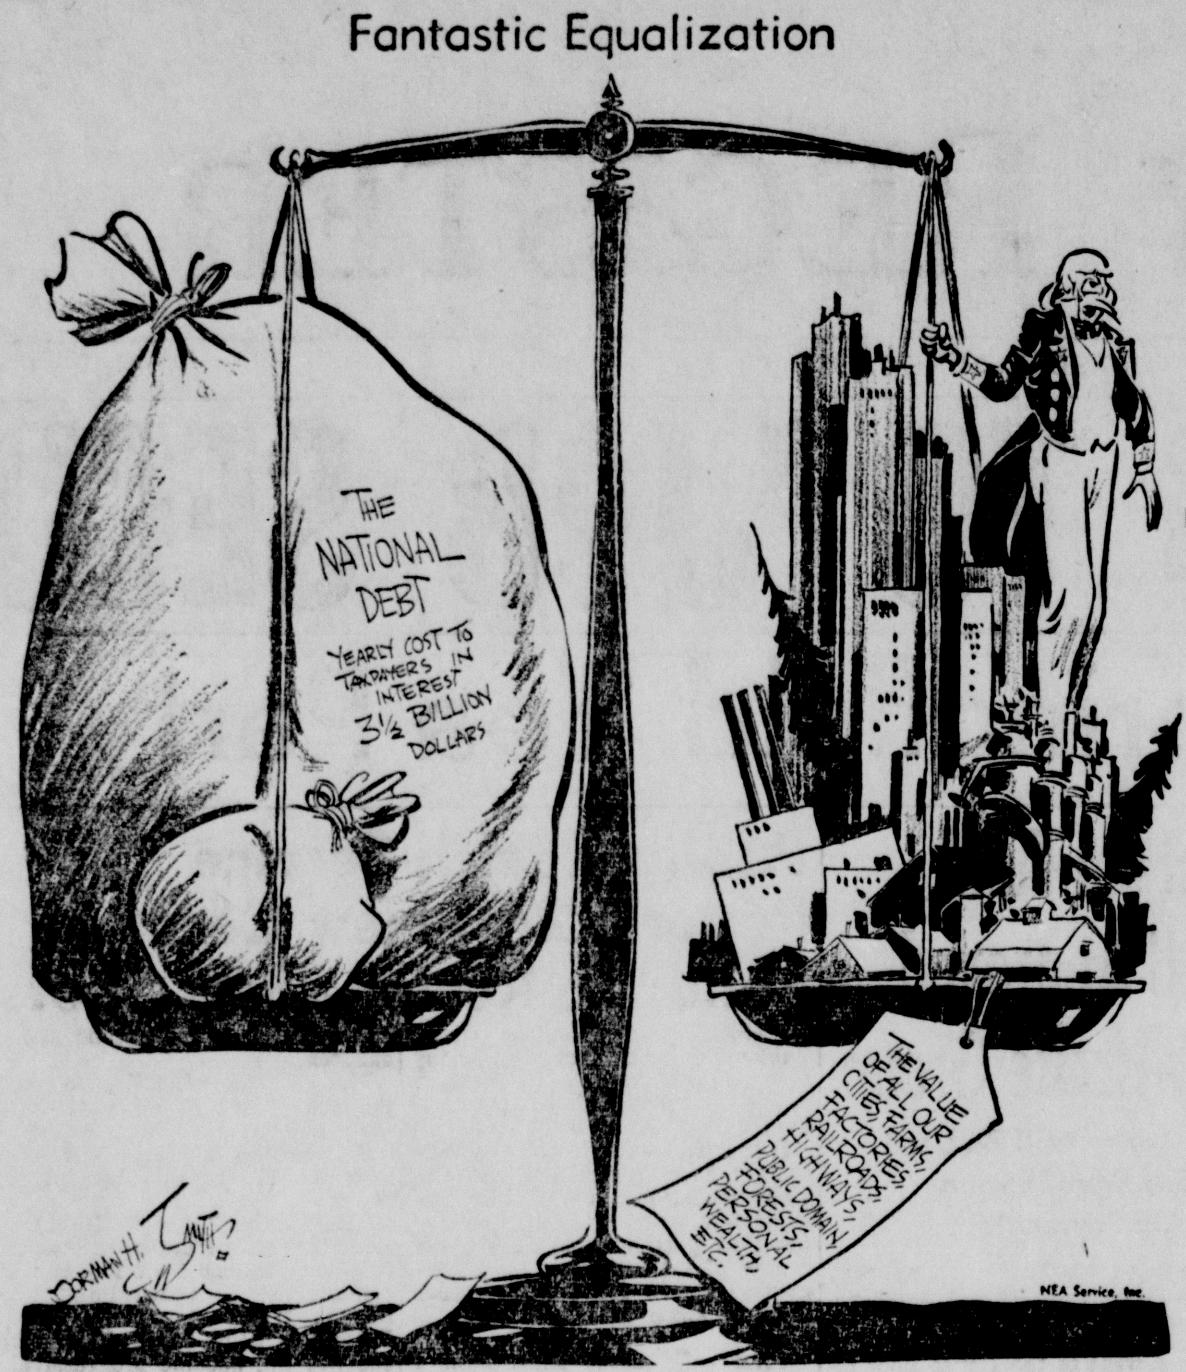

But surely this is not what the Kremlin conceives to be its real victory at Vienna.

Moscow's prime goal in Europe is Germany. Though the Reds loudly said they would never discuss German unity if West Germany was taken into NATO, they already have offered new unity proposals. Germany's neutrality is a key aim. Austria is the model, the lure, the proof of good faith.

Russia failed to block West German entry into NATO, with all it can mean for Western strength. Now the West is on test to show whether it can work for German unity without giving up what it worked so hard to gain. A neutral Germany would be a Germany ever in peril of Russian domination.

Whatever developments flow from the Kremlin's new strategy, we can expect with deep satisfaction its notable by-product—the long-hoped-for treaty of freedom for Austria. A fabled land has found its own breath again, and that is no triumph for communism.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
 Congress Has Been Lax In Probing Polio Confusion; Why Was Cutter Laboratory Licensed?; Why Didn't Public Health Test The Vaccine?

WASHINGTON.—So far Democratic chairmen of congressional committees have barely scratched the surface regarding the polio vaccine confusion and near scandal. They have talked a lot, summoned high-powered witnesses, but little real probing.

Important congressional investigations are carried out not by calling in bureaucrats but by digging into files and using the power of the subpoena.

And where children's lives are at stake, the Democrats who head these key committees should not be making speeches but getting to the bottom of things.

A newspaperman does not have the power of subpoena, nor a battery of investigators financed by the taxpayer. However, based upon my own limited ability to investigate, here are some fundamental questions which I suggest the appropriate committees dig into:

1. Why were the Cutter laboratories licensed? The laboratories of Cutter in Berkeley, Calif., did not produce any Salk vaccine in the 1954 field trials. Yet when it came time for the Public Health Service to approve vaccine for nationwide production, Cutter came up with a batch of vaccine. When did they produce this? Could they have borrowed it from another company?

Rumor has been rife inside the Public Health Service that Cutter has high connections inside the administration. Vice President Nixon has denied that he intervened for them. These rumors may be completely unfair. In fairness to Cutter and Nixon and to the public, witnesses should be called and records subpoenaed to ascertain the truth.

2. What tests were made of the Cutter vaccine? Also, what tests were made of other vaccines?

Under the biologics control law passed in 1962, the government has the power and duty to inspect every company that sells biologics in interstate commerce. The law also requires every company to be licensed, and the license can be issued only after the company passes strict safety, purity, and potency standards. The same law states that no company can keep out a public health inspector at any time of the day or night.

Therefore the question arises,

Retail Group Favors Powell Sales Tax Bill

Officials of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, headed by Joe T. Meek, who have opposed the Illinois administration's proposed sales tax increase bill, have suggested a substitute proposal, which was presented to the Legislature by Rep. Pfeffer and Rep. Paul Powell.

The Federation's stand was taken in a letter which has been mailed to legislators and to Governor William G. Stratton and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

The letter follows:

Dear Governor:

While the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations continues to be opposed to any sales tax increase, for reasons well known to you, we do believe it is most necessary for us to join with the retail associations of this State and many others in pointing out the grave perils of the city sales tax proposal.

As of this date, one of the Chicago newspapers quotes from a 1949 Illinois Revenue Laws Commission study—the Legislature's own creation—to point up the dangers of the city sales tax. It is only a brief mention, but it substantiates the long testimony of yesterday against this type of levy.

The Mayor of Chicago has also indicated an interest in such alternatives.

Both of you have shown a desire to study constructive suggestions, regardless of politics.

To this end, if it is imperative to have a sales tax increase, may we respectfully call your attention to House Bill 56 which was favorably reported out of the House Revenue Committee May 25th by a 14-4 vote! Its authors are Representatives Powell and Pfeffer.

House Bill 56, as materially amended in committee, does these things, as we understand it:

Sets the State R. O. Tax rate at 3 per cent for two years.

Provides 1-2 per cent for State aid to schools for this period.

Provides 1-2 per cent for Municipalities, the funds to be specifically earmarked for police, firemen and public welfare.

Provides that cities obtaining such aid must reduce their property taxes by 50 per cent for all cities other than Chicago, by 25 per cent for Chicago. Mr. Powell will have to explain his reasons for this differential. I am not able to do so.

Finally, the bill provides that any monies not so used must be returned to the general revenue fund of the State.

We believe it is proper for us to call your attention to House Bill 56. It has the fundamentals of an intelligent compromise. It permits us, also, to again state our deep and lasting opposition to any city sales tax idea and to express the hope that if needs are proven imperative, the tax creation resulting must be uniform.

Sincerely,
 J. T. Meek

Democrats Will Accept Southern Rebels: Butler

CHICAGO (UPI)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Wednesday night he has "no intention" of keeping Southern "rebels" out of the party's 1956 convention.

Butler thus lined up behind Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 candidate, who said recently that the Democrats should take back "those who have strayed and returned in good faith."

Butler also had the implied support of Stephen A. Mitchell, the former party chairman who caused a controversy recently by saying three of the "rebels" should not be admitted as delegates to the convention.

Butler made his statement at a news conference in Mitchell's ice after conferring with him all day.

The two men apparently reached agreement on how to handle the Southern problem.

"I have no right to keep anyone out of the 1956 convention and I have no intention of doing so," Butler said in stating his position.

However, he emphasized that he would expect any delegate to next year's Chicago convention to support the party's nominee.

Butler's statement came on the eve of an extended trip that will bring him to Texas in mid-June.

He is expected to confer with Texas Gov. Allan Shivers, one of the most prominent of the Southern leaders who refused to support Stevenson during the 1952 campaign.

Others whom Mitchell had suggested should be barred were Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana and ex-Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina. They, also, backed Mr. Eisenhower in 1952.

What has been the cooperation of the drug industry?

When Dr. Salk last year asked some of the big drug companies to begin preparing for the manufacture of his vaccine, he could get only one—Parke Davis—to cooperate. He knew the manufacture was difficult and delicate and would require advance experience.

However, the drug companies, with one exception, did not get into the act until Basil O'Connor, head of the Polio Foundation, placed $9,000,000 worth of orders with them.

Assured this profit, they did not assign all their vaccine to the foundation which made the profit possible. They sent 500,000 cubic centimeters first to their own customers. Cutter vaccine, for instance, turned up from Mexico to Arlington, Va., before the Polio Foundation got its own order filled.

Senators and congressmen should find out why.

4. What has been the result in human tragedy?

At this writing, 88 families have had one or more children come down with polio after the first Salk shot. And the figure may be greater by the time this appears in print. In most cases the questionable Cutter vaccine has been used.

What hasn't been announced is that nonvaccinated members of another 32 families have caught polio from the vaccinated children.

Again the Cutter product was heavily involved. In Baltimore, an eight-month-pregnant mother died from polio shortly after one of her children had been inoculated.

But the human tragedy must also be measured not merely in deaths and illness, but in uncertainty. A great discovery to save lives and remove the awful parental dread of the summer has been transformed into continued dread, continued uncertainty. Investigating congressmen should ascertain who was responsible.

In Canada, the Dominion government, which received exactly the same advance information on the Salk vaccine as Mrs. Hobby, began months ago to prepare for the current polio season. They pooled all orders in one laboratory at Toronto to university, distributed the vaccine under governmental regulation, and most of the children from 5 to 6 have now been inoculated. There have been no cases of polio resulting from the Canadian vaccine.

World's first steel-frame skyscraper was built in Chicago about 1927.

General Phone Plant Investment Hits $500 Million

General Telephone System now has a telephone plant investment of $500,000,000, it was announced in New York today by President Donald C. Power. This milestone was reached during April, 1955. It is estimated now that by the end of the year the total investment will reach $538,800,000 or an increase of $31,600,000 over the close of 1954.

Under the biologics control law passed in 1962, the government has the power and duty to inspect every company that sells biologics in interstate commerce. The law also requires every company to be licensed, and the license can be issued only after the company passes strict safety, purity, and potency standards. Expect Senate Passage Tuesday Of Remap Bill

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—The legislative reapportionment bill moved toward passage stage in the Senate today and top sponsors predicted it will be passed next Tuesday.

A series of "technical" amendments, further defining the boundaries of legislative districts, were offered today as the final steps in readying the bill for a vote. The House passed the bill last week.

The Senate held a night session Wednesday to consider the remaining proposals to change the boundary lines. An amendment aimed at improving the chances of electing Negro senators from two Chicago districts was accepted.

Adoption of another amendment affecting three northwest Illinois Senate districts earlier Wednesday assured another fight on the bill when it goes back to the House for concurrence next Tuesday.

Certain of Approval
If the Senate and House can agree on the amendments, the bill could go to Gov. William G. Stratton's desk, where it is certain of approval, late Tuesday. His signature would give the state its first new legislative districts since 1901.

The bill creates 58 new Senate districts based on near-equal area and 59 new House districts with near-equal population. Downstate will control the Senate. Cook county will have narrower control of the House.

The Senate rejected an amendment offered by Sen. Paul W. Broyles (R-Mount Vernon) to put Richland county in his district, "trading" Wabash from his district to that of Sen. William F. Hensley (R-Lawrenceville). Hensley opposed the amendment.

Attendees at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Evans who arrived in Gallup Wednesday, May 18.

For her informal wedding Miss Evans chose a peacock blue suit.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Illinois where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and Mortar Board, senior woman's honorary. She taught one year in the schools of Freeport before going to Gallup last fall where she teaches music in the city schools.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Wayne university in Detroit, Mich. Immediately following the ceremony dinner was served at El Rancho hotel for the wedding party.

They will leave Gallup for Reno, Nev., at the close of the term of school.

General Baptist Golden Rule Circle Holds Meeting

The Golden Rule circle of the General Baptist church met recently in the church basement with Mrs. Flora May as hostess.

The meeting opened with the song "When We All Get to Heaven" after which the president read the 14th chapter of John. Roll call was answered with a scripture verse.

Birthday songs were sung to Alta Reynolds, Mary Murrow, Eunice Black and Louise Brinkley.

The following were present: Cora Church, Donna Harris, Ola Mazzaro, Helen Hicks, Wanda Lee, Louise Brinkley, Edna Spurlock, Mary Lou Spurlock, Phyllis Jean Harris and Jackie Ann Lee.

A wiener roast was planned for June 11 at Karel park.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seten, Wichita, Kans., are visiting their parents in this city. She is the former Vivian Williams, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Williams and he is the son of Mrs. William Seten at Sulphur Springs. This young couple is employed by the Board of Education at Wichita. She operates an IBM machine in the office and he is in the service department by which the schools of this city of some 200,000 are maintained. He was formerly employed by the Peabody Coal Co. at mine No. 40.

Some of the major proposals are sure to meet stiff opposition.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he did not anticipate action on the commission proposals this year. Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), a member of the commission, agreed.

The commission which has issued 11 reports, still has 9 more to make, including one on the explosive public power issue.

Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), another commission member and a frequent dissenter to the reports, said the recommendations "will run into much more trouble" than those of the 1949 commission.

It took five years to put 73 percent of the old commission's recommendations into effect — by legislative action, presidential reorganization plans and administrative action. The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report estimated the savings at $1,300,000,000 a year.

Holifield said the new commission has gone into the field of policies as well as efficient operation to which the first commission was limited.

Tornadoes Whirl
From Storm Front;
No Serious Damage

By United Press

Tornadoes whirled out of the skies from Texas to South Dakota Wednesday night, but spared the nation's midsection any serious damage.

The twisters sprang from a long storm front which stretched from Minnesota to northern Texas early today and spread thunderstorms and showers through parts of the Midwest, central Kansas, and Oklahoma.

The most dangerous twister whipped the southwestern Oklahoma town of Hollis, touching down on the community's northeast corner and then bouncing back into the sky. No injuries were reported.

Other tornado funnels were seen near Childress, Tex., Tripoli, Iowa, and Pierre, S.D.

ETHS Graduates Receive Awards At Commencement

Commencement exercises at Eldorado Township high school were held Wednesday evening for the seventy members of the senior class of ETHS.

Eldorado does not have a speaker at commencement, a plan started several years ago, but the exercises are a school-and-community participation event.

Awards from various city organizations were made to graduates as follows: Daughters of American Revolution Award, Samuel Elder chapter, to Beth Ann York; DeKalb Seed Company award to Lonial Lovellette;

Rotary club award, to Lonial Lovellette;

Lions club award to Patsy Broadhurst;

Honors Day at ETHS was held Tuesday with students recognized for outstanding work in the various departments of school activities. Included in the honors were scholastic awards to the top students in each class—Patsy Broadhurst, senior; Evelyn Grant, junior; Rita Waller, sophomore; Mae Cantrell, Beverly Hall and Glenda Stone, freshman.

At last night's commencement exercises W. A. Knoop, principal, presented the members of the graduating class and diplomas were presented by Leonard Smith, president of the Board of Education.

Dick Harold Graduates at Kemper

Dick Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Harold Jr., 608 South Main, is a member of the 1955 high school graduating class at Kemper Military school, Boonville, Mo.

He received his diploma in graduation exercises May 29 with Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Cleland, commanding general of Fort Bragg, N.C., as the commencement speaker. General Cleland is a 1921 graduate of Kemper Military school and was professor of military science and tactics at Kemper from 1936 to 1938.

Dick received a Kemper scroll for forensics.

He also said that the institution of the club introduces a new type of recreational activity and citizenship training for the children of the area, as junior clubs devote their efforts toward the training of youth along civic, educational and social lines. Meetings are held monthly, with programs placing special emphasis on citizenship training, community cooperation, and recreation geared to all age groups. More than 350 such clubs are now functioning in the United States, Mr. Carlock said.

Emblematic axe membership pins were presented to members at Tuesday's event. Souvenirs were distributed and refreshments served.

Big Four Parley May Be Last Chance To Avoid War, Nixon Tells Rotarians

CHICAGO (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today the coming Big Four conference may be the world's "last chance" to avoid a "catastrophic war."

Nixon said the meeting may provide an answer to whether the Communists still want to "conquer the world" or whether they have "changed their ways."

"This conference could be the world's last chance to settle differences peacefully and avoid a catastrophic war," he said.

"The question it may answer is whether negotiated peace is possible, or whether the danger of nuclear war is to hang over us for generations to come."

Nixon said in remarks prepared for delivery at the convention of Rotary International that there is "no question" about the "desire and intent" of free world leaders for peace.

"Let us hope that world public opinion will be sufficiently strong to force the men in the Kremlin to do likewise," he said.

About 20,000 delegates from Rotary clubs throughout the world were attending the 50th anniversary convention. It will end tonight with a golden anniversary ball staged in 10 ball rooms of six hotels.

A. Z. Baker, Cleveland, was elected president of Rotary International today, succeeding Herbert J. Taylor, Chicago. Baker was unopposed.

Alvin W. Dakin, Iowa City, Iowa, was elected to the board of directors. Clyde L. Hulsizer, Des Moines, was elected an alternate on the nominating committee.

Delegates decided to hold the 1957 convention in Lucerne, Switzerland. Next year's convention will be in Philadelphia.

Dahlgren Man Dies of Injuries

The body is now at the Grigg and Ghoslen funeral home in Dahlgren and arrangements are incomplete.

HOME RUN—At 36, Sid Gordon once more is a member of the club with which he broke into the National League. The Giants purchased the pinch-hitting outfielder and third baseman from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Everyone calls pitcher Early Wynn of the Indians "Gus" . . . but he used to be Wigwam Willie to his old Senator mates because, one day in a playful mood, he lassoed the Nats' clubhouse boy with a dexterous knot he picked up from an Oklahoma cowboy and swung him from an overhanging pipe . . .

Speaking of Olson, the Dodgers' Don Hoak, a veteran of 26 pro mid-weight bouts while sailing in Jacksonville, playfully sparred with strong-man Gil Hodges in the clubhouse the other p. m. . . snapped across a light jab and strutted off, yawning, "Man, what a lucky day for Bob Olson when I took up baseball." . . .

Duke Snider's thunderous bat was wiping out the memory of his disappointing 1954 finish today while his Brooklyn Dodger teammates were well on their way to wiping out the all-time club record of 221 homers in one season.

Snider, who lost the National league batting title to Willie Mays on the final day of last season, drove in six runs with three home

ers and a double Wednesday night as the Dodgers walloped the Milwaukees, 11-8, with a six-homers outburst.

The 29-year-old slugger thus took over the major league lead with 15 home runs and 48 runs batted in, in addition to raising his season's average to .319. The six home runs gave the Dodgers a total of 67 in 44 games—a pace that would give them a season's total of 234. The 1947 New York Giants set the all-time record of 221.

Curious Surprise

The wild slugfest was a curious surprise for the 18,380 fans who expected a third pitching duel between Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Brooklyn's Carl Erskine. Conley and Erskine had engaged in two 12-inning duels previously this season in which a total of five runs were scored.

When the smoke cleared there had been a total of 25 hits, including five doubles, two triples and the six homers for 52 total bases.

Jackie Robinson, who hit one of the homers off Conley, revealed it was none other than pitcher Don Newcombe who set the stage for the slugging bee.

"Don watched Conley warm up before the game and noticed he wasn't masking his curve ball," Robinson explained. "He was right.

And, as a result, we knew every pitch he was throwing."

Erskine received credit for his seventh victory of the season but was routed when the Braves scor ed five runs in the seventh inning and needed Jim Hughes' shutout relief pitching to preserve the verdict.

On top of everything else,

the Dodgers picked up a full game on both the second-place Chicago

Cubs and third-place New York

Giants.

The entirely new building, which is free of debt, was constructed last year and replaces an old frame building which was torn down. The building has a basement. The wooden steps seen in the above photo are only temporary, while the dirt is settling around the building. They will be replaced by concrete steps. The interior of the church is shown in the lower photo. At June 5th is the annual homecoming date of the church, there will be a sermon at 11 a.m. by the Rev. Robert Blackman, a basket dinner at noon, and the dedication sermon by the Rev. Charles E. Holland, missionary of Big Saline association, at 1:30 p.m. An invitation is extended to everyone to attend Sunday. The church is located eight miles southwest of Equality. Rev. Clyde Vinyard is the present pastor.

Final Program of Year-Held by Mozart Music Club

The Mozart Music club held the final program of the year Friday night in the club room of the Mitchell-Carnegie library.

Mrs. H. N. Jarvis, the sponsor of the club, spoke briefly concerning the orchestra expressing regret that the organization is gradually losing its popularity in this part of the state.

George Dennis demonstrated the violin which is the principal instrument of the orchestra. He played "Beauty's Eyes" by Greenwald, with piano accompaniment by his violin teacher, Mrs. Eleanor Molinaro.

As the chairman, Linda Vaughn, called the roll the following members responded with piano selections: Lee Ann Dougherty, Carrier Mills; Nancy Hunter, Carrier Mills, Rita Pfister, Myrna Starnes, Brenda Reynolds, Mark Wilson, Carol Logsdon, Loretta Sheldor, Howard Blades, Belle Turner, Patty Sullivan, Judy Tucker, Rowena Dennis, L. The high school guest performers were Brenda Heatherly who played a waltz by Brahms and Paula Reynolds who played "Polonaise in A flat Major" by Chopin.

Parents were especially invited, most of whom were present and expressed their delight in the success of the program.

The 35th annual Commencement exercises were held at the Ridgway Community high school Tuesday at 8 p.m. with 33 receiving diplomas. Dr. James H. Hall, of the SIU faculty, gave the commencement address, "Life Is More Than Living."

Daniel J. Maloney, president of the Board of Education, made the presentation of diplomas, and Principal James O. Austin, presented the honor students.

Solos were given during the program by three members of the senior class — Ronald Wilson, Janis Bayley and Linda Hale. The Rev. William Wigmann pronounced both the invocation and benediction, and the school orchestra played several numbers.

Members of the graduating class were Ronald Wilson, president; Darla Dixon, vice-president; Janis Bayley, secretary-treasurer, and Donna Sue Abell, Martin Abell, Phyllis Ande, Charles Barter, Pat Bennett, Shirley Ann Dillard, Wanda Ellen Dolan, Carroll Downen, Charles M. Miss Grace Lyon, Eldorado School Teacher, Retires After 49-Year Career

Tuesday Miss Grace Lyon stood at the door of her fifth grade room at the Jefferson school in Eldorado to say goodbye to her pupils on the last day of the 1954-55 school term.

This was a very special occasion for Miss Lyon, as it marked her last act as a teacher in the schools of Saline and adjoining counties.

Miss Lyon earlier had announced her intention to retire from the teaching profession at the close of this year, marking the end of a 49-year career teaching in the schools of Saline and adjoining counties.

Thirty of those 49 years were spent in the Eldorado city school system. Miss Lyon also taught a year in the Galatia high school, a year at Shawneetown high school, another year at the children's home in Carmi, and 16 years in rural schools of Saline county.

During her teaching career in Eldorado she has taught in all three of the school buildings—one at Washington, eighteen at Lincoln and eleven at Jefferson.

Miss Lyon comes from a family of educators. Two sisters, Inez and Susie and a brother Rex all have taught and their father, James Lyon, was superintendent of the Eldorado elementary school system for 7 years—from 1912 to 1919. Two of her mother's brothers, James and Will Jobe were teachers and James Jobe was Saline county superintendent of schools for two terms.

Early in May Miss Lyon was guest of honor at a banquet given by the Eldorado teachers and the guest speaker was Ted Ragsdale, professor at S. I. U., who was a student at Galatia high school while Miss Lyon was a member of the faculty. At that time she was presented with a three-piece luggage set.

Miss Lyon has been active in the work of the First Baptist church for many years as a teacher and department superintendent.

She stated today she had no immediate plans, but her hobbies in-
